La classe de '46

Devise de la Classe 1946: "Vouloir, C'est Pouvoir"

Class Officers

BROTHER GEORGE, M.A., Ph.D.

Senior Class Teacher

Earl Wall
President

Andre Plante
Vice-President

Paul Fontaine
Secretary-Treasurer

WILLIAM E. WALL, 28 Lexington Street

Baseball 2.
Basketball 3.
Prevost Staff 3, 4.
Oratory 4.

Class President 'Billy" is an energetic worker who believes in seeing a job well done. His quiet and reserved manner is a credit to the class. His efficient leadership brought him to be elected President of the Senior Class. He is an ardent sports enthusiast and strives in every way he can to promote school spirit. Scholastically, he is prominent for serious work and persistent efforts. After the completion of his studies, Bill plans to take to the air with his own plane which he hopes to buy soon.

FERNAND TALBOT,
216 Jefferson Street

Prevost Staff 4.

Fernand is quiet and most energetic outside of school hours. 'Tow-Boat", as he is popularly called by his numerous friends, has a real weakness for French, and a tender love of hunting which constitutes his favorite pastime. His winning personality and his broad smile soon find their way into anybody's heart. Although his temper is sometimes ruffled by adverse weather conditions, his kind heart keeps him quite harmless and amiable. He will never be obliged to hunt for friends.

ROGER OLIVIER, 184 Anthony Street

With no other ambition than that of some day becoming a buck private, Roger is just smoothly drifting on the ocean of life. His affable, easy-going manners and winning smile have opened the hearts of all those who had to deal with him. His witty sayings and "pertinent" questions have been an important factor in keeping the attention of the class during French. He is good-natured and quite humoristic at times. Still, we are sure that he will prove his worth in actual life.

ROGER LUSSIER, 67 Irving Street

Glee Club 2, 3, 4.
Dramatics 4.

One could hardly say that "Rog" is one that stays in the background. Full of fun and always ready to go, he easily becomes the life of any party or social gathering. His mild and mellow voice is a valuable asset in the Glee Club, and he often delights an audience by his sentimental melodies on the Hawaian guitar. Although his intellectual achievements have not produced the effect of an atomic bomb, he has the personality that will make him a success in life.

GERARD GAGNON,
117 Keeley Street

Glee Club 1, 2, 3.
Orchestra 1, 2.
Prevost Staff 4.
Yearbook Staff 4.

Gerard has everything he needs to be a fascinating radio announcer. His colorful vocabulary, resonant elocution, and sparkling wit, have provoked the admiration of everyone who was fortunate enough to meet this outstanding Prevost Senior. For several years, the Glee Club was enhanced through his sonorous performance. But his devotion to the school and exterior activities never allowed him to slip in his scholastic standing which ever maintained itself at the top of the ladder.

PAUL FONTAINE, 12 Roper Street

Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4.
Prevost Staff 3.
Yearbook 4.

Paul's curly hair, sympathetic blue eyes, and ready smile make him a favorite in the Senior Class. Unobtrusive, quiet, unassuming, yet serious, ambitious, and intelligent, he has every characteristic that makes success in whatever enterprise he may decide to undertake. His absolute fidelity to duty and scrupulous honesty brought his election as class treasurer where he distinguished himself in the tactful manner of collecting money from the Seniors for their own benefit. Keep it up, Paul; the world will always need bright intellects, men of duty, and honest managers.

RENE DESROCHERS, 624 Charles Street

Baseball 3, 4.
Basketball 3.
Oratory 4.
Prevost Staff 4.

A reserved, charming modest young man, whose achievements ever satisfy the highest standards is our "Honey", as he is commonly called. Highly proficient in his studies, Rene also devotes his time to oratory and sports. In the latter field, he is a vital cog on the baseball team, filling the third base position flawlessly. The wreath of success will undoubtedly crown his unrelenting spirit and high aspirations.

ROBERT BERTRAND,
608 Third Street

Although "Stretch" is accidentally absent-minded, he nevertheless promises to become a real scientist or a trigonometry teacher. He is ever willing to share with others the vast amount of knowledge which his daily studies have accumulated in his ever active mind. He loves to skate all year round; and eventually, his friendly attitude will cause him to skate himself into someone's heart. Best of luck, Robert; we shall be glad to applaud your achievements in future years.

CHARLES CLYNES, 73 Weetamoe Street

Glee Club 1, 2.
Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4.

No hurricane can arouse Charles to anger. He would smile to the meanest rat who would try to put salt in his sugar bowl. No unpleasant weather or discouraging setbacks can ruffle the peace and sweetness of his manners. He just takes life as it comes, even if that life should lead him nowhere. "Charlie" simply cannot have enemies; his imperturable smile will change the most bitter antagonist into a sympathetic companion almost instantaneously.

NORMAND PETIT, 77 Raymond Street

If you ever need an efficient manager for a business firm, just knock at Normand's door. There you will find leadership, gentle manners, a ready wit, the will to work, and a sense of practical usefulness that would make any enterprise climb over the top. It has been pleasant to enjoy his company for four years. Now the company will enjoy him for years to come for the greatest benefit of society at large.

ADRIEN PICARD,
Old Bedford Road,
North Westport

Orchestra 1, 2, 3, 4.
Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4.

Que ferait notre orchestre sans les services appréciés de notre ami "Picard" et de sa clarinette? Aimé et admiré, de tous, il, a conquis le lauréat de mathématicien officiel de la classe des finissants. D'un tempérament souple, il sait prendre les choses comme elles viennent et résoudre les difficultés avec un sourire. Sa force de volonté et l'assurance de ses décisions constituent deux grandes garanties de succès dans la vie. Son aptitude à s'adapter aux différentes conditions de la vie fera de sa carrière un véritable succès.

Best of luck
A. Pelletier

ALFRED PELLETIER, 47 St. Joseph Street

Baseball 2, 3, 4.
Oratory 3, 4.
Prevost Staff 4.
Yearbook Staff 4.

Quand on parle de "Al" Pelletier, tout le monde pense à ses faits d'armes sur le terrain de baseball. Son bras droit appartient au musée de l'Ecole Prévost lorqu'on ramassera les reliques de notre héros. Il a contribué plus que tout autre à assurer le championnat de la ligue Narragansett pour le baseball. Son travail ardu et persévérant en classe lui vaut un siège réservé sur le tableau d'honneur de l'école. Un peu timide, il n'en est que plus aimé de tous ceux qui l'approchent.

EDMOND VALIQUETTE, 900 South Main Street

Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4.
Baseball 2, 3, 4.
Basketball 3, 4.

"Zeke" est un véritable sportif. Il a été très apprécié tant sur l'équipe de ballon au panier que sur le club de baseball. Bien qu'il lui manque du poids et de la taille, il remplace cela par la vitesse et le dévouement. Aimable, charitable, et serviable sont trois adjectifs attachés à son nom. Une des innocentes faiblesses de "Zeke" est d'aimer l'histoire américaine à la folie. Mais il faut lui pardonner quelques petits péchés de ce genre, qui d'ailleurs, n'influenceront guère son succès dans la vie.

ROGER PAUL,
170 Horton Street

Prevost Staff 4.

D'une nature placide, gentille et sympathique, Roger est un compagnon charmant. Sa santé plutot frêle lui a appris a s'attendrir sur le sort des "souffreteux" et l'a rendu d'une sensibilité exquise et délicate à l'égard de ses confrères de classe. Sans bruit, sans éclat, et sans vantardise, il a passé parmi nous en faisant le bien, en donnant le bon exemple et en encourageant toutes les bonnes causes.

GERARD MARTEL, 97 Holden Street

Prevost Staff 4.
Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Jerry" est un type distingué, tant dans ses manières que dans ses habits, mais il est loin d'être hautain ou aristocratique. Ses rapports avec tous ont un cachet de cordialité et de bienveillance tout à fait aimable. Son habileté à converser sur n'importe quel sujet augmente de beaucoup le charme de sa personnalité. Gérard est un étudiant sérieux qui fait ses délices dans la période de trigonométrie ou de géométrie solide. Il se prépare à la carrière d'ingénieur civil en regardant de temps en temps à travers les fenêtres.

ROBERT COULOMBE, 27 Bedard Street

"Cueball" vit dans un état de perplexité. Sa crainte perpétuelle est de s'entendre interpellé par le professeur en classe et de se voir obligé de répondre à des questions embarrassantes. Mais sa bonne humeur constante et son ambition au travail viennent à son secours. Et si vous croyez que "Bob" n'est pas un meneur remarquable, regardez-le conduire les scouts quelquefois et vous serez convaincu qu'il a toutes les qualités requises pour remplacer avantageusement notre regretté général Patton.

ANDRE A. PLANTE,
365 Middle Street

Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4.
Oratory 2, 3, 4.
Prevost Staff 3, 4.
Yearbook 4.

"André" est un athlète intellectuel. Il n'y a pas de tâche impossible pour lui dans ce domaine. Il réalise à perfection la devise de la classe: "Vouloir, c'est pouvoir". Aussi, il accomplit une somme de travail surprenante. Rédacteur du "Prévost", Vice-Président de la Sodalité, éditeur de l'annuaire, participant aux concours oratoires: tout cela est dans son programme, qui, d'ailleurs ne l'empêche pas de se tenir constamment parmi les meilleurs étudiants de la classe. Doué d'un tempérament sérieux, d'une personnalité attirante, et d'une volonté forte, il ne manquera pas de faire son chemin dans la vie.

GERARD BEAUDRY, 611 Rodman Street

Dramatics '43.

"Gérard" est un jeune homme virile qui se spécialise dans le sport de la balle au mur. Le succès lui sourit parce qu'il sait le poursuivre jusqu'au bout. Il sait devenir le centre d'une discussion sans que jamais ses adversaires ne perdent l'affection qu'ils ont pour lui. Son caractère égal et son esprit pétillant en font un compagnon charmant, un étudiant remarquable et un homme entreprenant.

HERMAN LAPOINTE, 184 Brownell Street

Prevost Staff 4.
Oratory 4.
Yearbook Staff 4.
Dramatics 2, 3.

"Herman" est très interessé dans la politique. Dans l'étude de l'histoire américaine, il cherche constamment un gérant capable de faire réussir ses futures campagnes d'élection présidentielle. Il est le "génie" de la classe et s'occupe avec zèle de la distribution du journal "Prévost". Doué d'une énergie à toute épreuve et d'un esprit d'initiative que rien ne rebute, il a toutes les qualités requises pour faire réussir n'importe quelle entreprise à laquelle il consacre ses efforts. Avis à ceux qui cherchent un bon "gérant" d'affaires.

GEORGES CANTIN,
1030 Dwelly Street

Yearbook Staff 4.

"Georges" est le plus âgé des Seniors et exerce une influence d'aimable patriarche. Il se mêle à tous, parle et s'amuse avec tous avec un charme irrésistible. Il est l'âme de toute organisation ou les affaires doivent réussir. Sa position au Western Union illustre ses qualités d'affabilité et de sociabilité remarquables. Georges fera son chemin dans la vie, et reviendra à Prévost avec son automobile et son cigar pour assister de ses conseils expérimentés la jeune génération.

ROBERT DESROSIERS, 163 Thomas Street

Glee Club 2.
Prevost Staff 4.

"Bob" a des ambitions poétiques et ne rêve qu'en grec pendant son sommeil. Quand il s'éveille, il n'a rien de plus pressé que de transcrire les vers que son imagination féconde a érigés pendant les douces heures de repos. Son esprit toujours actif conçoit sans cesse de nouveaux moyens de rendre la vie plus agréable à ceux qui l'entourent. "Bob" est le"dilettante" de la classe 1946. Nous nous souviendrons longtemps de son sourire inspiré.

MAURICE BERUBE, 62 Kennedy Street

Prevost Staff 4.
Glee Club 2, 3.
Sodality 1, 2, 3, 4.

Maurice aime les vastes horizons, la nature ensoleillée, et la campagne verdoyante. Son passe-temps favori est la pêche, la chasse et le campement dans les bois. Maurice est aussi un étudiant modèle en classe et se maintient toujours dans une humeur joyeuse. Sa bonté sincère et sa nature gentille assurera son succès dans ses relations avec le monde au sortir de l'école.

A Message to the Graduating Class of 1946

If heavy clouds darken your sky
When foes assail and friends depart,
Lift up your soul and gaze on high
For rest and peace of heart . . .
Yea, men may come and men may go;
Fortune may smile or frown on you;
But God is always, as you know,
A "Changeless Friend" to you.

It is with pleasure that we recall the memory of the four "Seminarians" who belong to the class of 1946, but who have left Prevost High School before graduating in order to enter the Seminary where they follow special courses to prepare themselves for the priesthood. We are proud to give them an honorable mention and include the photos of three of them. The fourth, Edouard Canuel, also belongs to this group.

ROBERT BOUSQUET

Class Prophecy

After winning the $10,000 California open golf link championship match, I felt the need of a rest and decided to return to Fall River for a visit to the old Alma Mater and the former classmates.

Twenty years had elapsed since I left school and I was anxious to see the institution again.

While walking towards the T.W.A. airplane at the Los Angeles airport after buying my ticket, I saw a familiar figure and was surprised to recognize the friendly features of . . .

ROGER PAUL, now pilot of a giant four jet transport, running a regular schedule between Los Angeles, Chicago, and Fall River. He was quite proud of his ship and equally so in saying that it had come off the drafting board of . . .

FERNAND TALBOT, chief aircraft designer for Lockheed, and the main architect for advanced aircraft designs in transports.

In a couple of minutes, we were on our way to Fall River. En route, my mind wandered over those enjoyable school days spent at Prevost. Before realizing how fast time has passed, we were settling down to a nice easy landing at Chicago. Stepping out for a while until the new passengers boarded the plane, I bought a newspaper.

Back on the transport, I noticed a sedate looking gentleman sitting opposite me. In a moment I knew him to be . . .

ANDRE A. PLANTE. I was informed that he was now a diamond merchant for A. A. Plante & Son Jewelry store, which occupied half of the Academy building. He had come to Chicago desirous of purchasing some rare diamonds and was returning home after completing his business transactions.

While talking with Andre, I learned that, in Chicago, he had met . . .

GERARD GAGNON, business manager of the Chicago branch of the Elbe File Co. I was pleased to hear this for at school, "Gerry" always talked with pride about this company.

Glancing at the sports section of my paper, I saw in one of the headlines . . .

"VALIQUETTE Bats .450". Naturally intrigued by this, I read further and it came to my knowledge that our all around "Zeke" was star player for the pennant winning Cubs and league batting champion.

Having noticed the familiar style of the article, I searched for the name of its editor and found him to be . . .

ALFRED PELLETIER who, I presumed, was now sports editor of the Chicago Tribune. "Al" always did love sports, participating in them, as well as writing about them.

When we arrived at the immense Fall River airport, two hours later, Andre and I bade our pilot, Roger, farewell and took a cab bound for the jewelry store.

Half way there, the taxi in which we were riding, failed to round a curve and struck the side of a delivery truck. Jostled but not hurt, we stepped from the car to view the extent of the damage. In the street, pickles and ketchup were spread in a very distasteful manner. The driver of the truck stepped out, seemingly unhurt, but in a rage. After wiping the mayonnaise from his face, he revealed to Andre and I that he was no other than . . .

GEORGE CANTIN, now chief delivery salesman for the George Cantin & Sons Co. When he recognized us, George calmed down and, looking at the truck, deemed it necessary to have it towed for repairs to a garage.

The taxi driver obligingly phoned, and five minutes later, a wrecker truck was at our service. The man who stepped out in cover-alls was no one else but . . .

GERARD MARTEL. While securing the truck, "Gerry" told us how he had worked his way up to master mechanic in the Lucas Bros. Garage, and that he had intentions of opening up a garage of his own in a few years. I asked him about his old friend and learned that . . .

ADRIEN PICARD was at present a teacher of advanced mathematics at M. I. T. I remembered the facility with which "Pickles" handled this subject at school. I also learned that he had followed in his father's footsteps by raising a fine family of eight children.

By now, Andre, who was in a hurry to bring his diamonds to the shop, left me. Noticing a slight cut on my hand, caused by the accident, I decided to go into the corner drug store with the sole intention of having it bandaged. To my surprise, I saw the sign reading . . .

CLYNES & DESROCHERS DRUG CO. I entered, asking for the proprietors. A moment later, Charles Clynes came out and told me that Rene Desrochers had gone to Boston on business. "Chuck" fixed my cut while informing me that he and Rene had attended the same pharmaceutical college. Upon completing the course there, they decided to establish a business together

While we were talking, a milkman brought in supplies in the soda fountain and asked "Chuck" to sign the bill. All at once, I recognized . . .

ROGER LUSSIER who, I was told, had a well established milk route, serving all the large drug stores of the city. The only complaint Roger had about his work was getting up early in the morning.

I was hungry by now and ordered a lunch. Just as I was enjoying the meal, a heavy thud on my back sent me half way over the counter. Getting up to locate the cause of my discomfort, I came face to face with . . .

ROBERT COULOMBE, all arrayed in a forest ranger uniform. He had just returned from duty in Maine. "Bob" always liked the wide open space and this forestry work seemed to fare him well. I asked about his bosom friend and learned that . . .

EARL WALL was a surveyor for a large concern which was hastily clearing down a small forest to build a gigantic air field in Maine.

Leaving the drug store, I proceeded to find a barber shop in quest of a well-needed haircut. Walking down Main street, I spied a large red and white barber pole. Upon walking in, I noticed the familiar traits of the barber who turned out to be...

ROGER OLIVER. I learned from him that he had started as an assistant in the shop eighteen years ago, and that, after inheriting some money, he had bought the owner.

While talking to me, Roger clipped the ear of the man whose hair he was cutting. The customer let out a yell, jumped up, and shook his fists energetically at Roger. To my surprise, there in front of me stood . . .

GERARD BEAUDRY. The latter revealed to me how much he liked his work as truck driver for the Hemingway Bros. Trans. Co. I could not visualize how "Cappy" could see over the wheel of the truck, considering his height, but apparently he did.

"Cappy" told me that on his last trip to Pennsylvania, he picked up a tall distinguished looking hitch-hiker whom he recognized . . .

ROBERT BERTRAND, now teacher of chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania. "Bob" had the same job in a school nearer home; but he made a mistake in an equation and the chemical reaction blew up the school; so, he had to look for another job.

In the barber shop, the radio was playing. I paid no attention to it until I heard: "And this is your announcer . . .

NORMAND PETIT. The surprise did not last long, for I remembered and realized that "Norm's" job at Lincoln Park 20 years before, kept him near the microphone.

I asked Roger if he knew MAURICE BERUBE'S present occupation. I was told that "Mike" had become a professional hunter in the wilds of Louisiana.

I just stepped out of the shop when a newsboy pushed the afternoon paper under my eyes, yelling: "Lapointe elected mayor". I bought it at once and read . . .

"HERMAN LAPOINTE, a notable politician, because of the sound principles embodied in his orations, succeeded in obtaining the vote of our citizens."

I was still reading the paper when I nonchalantly walked into . . .

ROBERT DESROSIERS Cash Market on Pleasant street, where I purchased a beautiful steak. Robert told me that he grew tired of being "bossed" around and decided to be the boss himself.

I then joyfully realized that all my former classmates had fulfilled their ambition. Walking down Eastern avenue, I entered the portals of Prevost High School to be heartily greeted by the Principal. Brother Patrick showed me all around the modernized buildings which now included a luxurious gymnasium where were hung a score of championship cups won by the baseball, basketball and football teams.

I bade Brother Patrick goodby with the same appreciation and sorrow that I felt when I left the Alma Mater on graduation day twenty years ago.

PAUL FONTAINE, '46.

Class History

In June 1942, the grammar schools of Fall River were sending forth into the world hundreds of young boys and girls.

In September, after two months of careful planning, young men from Notre Dame, Saint Ann, Blessed Sacrament, Saint Matthew, and Saint John the Baptist parishes, were enrolling at Msgr. Prevost High School.

As Freshmen, we were very numerous and two classes were formed, one under Brother Francis, and the other under Brother Dalmace. It was a new routine for us and we dug into it with all we had.

Soon, it was in the fall of '43, and we were united into one class as Sophomores. Many had dropped from our ranks to seek work. New faces appeared as Roger Olivier, Robert Bertrand, and Emery England joined us. It was a long and tiresome year; but under the firm hand of Brother Florentian we came through.

Before we realized it, we were upper classmen, Juniors, under the supervision of Brother Ernest and his able successor, Brother Oscar. Norman Ferris joined our group and soon distinguished himself in many fields.

Finally, we reached the peak of our high school glory under Brother George. As Seniors, we lost Roland Bousquet, Norman Ferris, Edward Canuel, and Emery England, who left to study for the priesthood.

"Bill Wall", a hard working and able young man, was elected President. Andre Plante, a studious, well-mannered gentleman, was named Vice-President. Paul Fontaine, an intelligent, amiable, and highly efficient executive, was made Secretary.

We are proud of our group. We take part in all school activities: orchestra, oratory, glee club, basketball, and baseball. As the year draws to a close, we shall disperse, some to enter the service, others to continue their studies, and the rest to work. We will always remember our happy days at Prevost, and carry with us our class motto: "Where there is a will, there is a way" . . .

RENE DESROCHERS.

Class Will

A will is generally read after a person's death. We, the Seniors of the Class of '46, hereby contradict nature by presenting to all of you (before Judgment Day) . . .

1—The privilege of keeping your desks as untidy as ours have been.

2—Our unsurmountable and unpardonable manners.

3—Our very generous and unrelentingly devoted professors.

Now, we serve sentence upon each and every one of you, by bequeathing the following:

To BROTHER PATRICK, we leave a well-disciplined group of boys.

To BROTHER GEORGE, we leave a quiet, well-behaved crowd of literary pupils.

To BROTHER MARCEL, we leave the most quiet class imaginable for the French period.

To BROTHER ERNEST, we leave a group of master mathematicians to figure out his tough Geometry problems.

To SAMUEL FORD, we leave the right to bring his trumpet along on his dates.

To RAYMOND GIASSON, we leave the courage to get to see a certain Janice J. of New Bedford.

To DANIEL LATENDRESSE. we leave the title, "Dapper Dan", and a shaving kit to live up to his name.

To GERARD GOYETTE, we leave the right to wear his muscles to school all through the Senior year.

To PIERRE GAGNON, we leave an option on any make of car in any junk yard.

To ADRIEN OLIVIER, we leave the right to feed his corny jokes to the chickens, (it may increase egg production).

To PHILIP PETERS, we leave a new pail for his job as water-boy for the famous "Rough-Riders".

To LEOPOLD CLAPIN, we leave the right to receive silly answers to his silly questions.

To DENIS GOULET, we leave a permanent booth in the Library of Congress so he can study till the end of his days.

To ROGER ROY, we leave his choice of any girl, his height, for the class prom.

To ARMAND MELANSON, we provide an automobile, so as to leave his father one moment of peace.

To RAYMOND LAVOIE, we reserve a parking space for his immortal Ford.

To PHILIP COUSINEAU, we leave a special bus, to get him to school on time.

To LIONEL CADRIN, we leave a date with the class Pin-up.

To GERARD DUQUETTE, we leave a special pass to the Roller Rink at Lincoln Park.

To RAYMOND DUFOUR, we leave report cards, already made out, signaling him as first of the class.

To BERTRAND LACHANCE, we leave a box of "El Stinkos" for the Prevost Basketball games.

Schoolmates

We laughed and scrapped together
At the sweet age of ten;
In sunshine or bad weather,
We were so happy then! . . .
But times have changed and shifted,
And pierced our youthful heart;
And yearly we have drifted
Far and farther apart.

I do not share his opinions
Although he's not to blame.
We work in different dominions
And play a different game.
He can not come my way;
His dreams seem odd to me;
He treads a special highway
Or flies o'er land and sea.

But still we get together;
We do meet by and by,
For we have the same feather,
This loving friend and I.
Nor years nor pain can smother
The love that we did sow
While going to school together
So very long ago.

Juniors

On reentering school last September, almost two-thirds of the Junior Class consecrated themselves to the Blessed Virgin Mary by joining the Sodality. The President of the Class, "Benny" Ford, is also President of the Senior division of the Sodality. Ray Giasson is the Class Vice-President and Daniel Latendresse is Secretary.

Edward Bouchard, Raymond Dion, Oscar Maynard, Alban Caron, Raymond Francoeur, and Clement Dufour, constitute valuable assets in the present Glee Club.

Incidentally, the captain of the Varsity Basketball team, Ray Giasson, happens to be a Junior.

There are also several prominent orators among us, both in French and in English. Among these distinguished speakers, we may mention "Benny" Ford, D. Latendresse, Alban Caron, and Edouard Bouchard.

The Junior Class is never at a loss to supply names for the Honor Roll posted each month and containing the names of pupils who have succeeded above the average in their periodical examinations. Among the top ranking students, we may find such names as D. Goulet, P. Peters, B. Ford, R. Dufour, C. Dufour, R. Morrissette, and Lucien Pineau.

The Junior Class is represented in the school orchestra by Benny Ford and P. Cousineau, both of whom play the trumpet most reliably.

Even in sports, the Junior Class is far from being inferior.Three Juniors were on the varsity basketball team: Captain R. Giasson, Benny Ford, and D. Latendresse. R. Morrissette is a member of the Junior Varsity. Several Juniors will give a good account of themselves also when the baseball season will allow them to enjoy the popular outdoor sport.

In every field, the class of '47 has made a name for itself which will be registered in the annals of the school for generations to come. The Juniors now at Prevost realize the value of their school and the efficiency of the Brothers as a teaching staff. They are particularly grateful for the help of Brother Ernest, as their Moderator.

It is with real pride and anxious expectation that they are looking forward to their Senior year when they shall take the final stride before entering the struggle of life and trying to make this a better world of peace and understanding.

Sophomores

Section A

Il y a plusieurs années que le nom de SOPHOMORE résonne à Prévost. Mais en septembre 1945, le destin réservait ce titre à un groupe privilégié. Voulez-vous connaître les membres de la SOPHOMORE A? . . . C'est un amalgame assez complexe constituant cependant une alléchante mosaïque.

La bonhomie et l'entrain ont chez nous leurs adeptes; les Lafond, Morin, Arm. Lévesque, R. Bérard et R. Lavoie. D'aucuns prétendent que R. A. Mercier, André Levesque, Renaud, et surtout notre ami Valcourt, sont les types parfaits du loustic. Voulez-vous des hommes placides, imperturbables et posés? . . . Lapierre, Girard, Barselou, Leblanc, Guimond, Chagnon, et Lachance sont à vos ordres. Nos ruches intellectuelles ne brillent peut-être pas par leur nombre; mais goûtez à leur miel; il est succulent; les gourmets en raffolent, n'est-cepas LeBreux, Frazier, Héroux et Countouriotis? . . . (Ce dernier y ajoute même une petite saveur grecque)

L'énigme de la classe est sans contredit N. Lavoie. Quant au firmament sportif, il y aurait eu un coin sombre sans la présence de nos étoiles telles que Boissonneau, Roger J. Mercier, et P. Lavoie. Et que dire de l'orchestre? . . . Il aurait marché clopin-clopant sans les indispensables instruments de Gamache et de Moreau. Nos trois officiers de classe, George LeBreux, John Countouriotis, et Armand Boissonneau ont conduit notre barque à bon port. Malgré les récifs menaçants de l'histoire, de la biologie, et de l'arithmétique commerciale, et les méandres tortueux des langues française, anglaise et latine, nous sommes restés debout sur la brèche, le regard fier, envisageant l'avenir avec confiance et sérénité.

Section B

Last September, thirty Sophomores daringly unloosed their boat from its moorings, and with countenances which wore a cast of self-determination, they set sail in a strong current.

The die was cast . . . All had embarked on a bold venture. Fraught with difficulties was the cruise. A few, alas! because of their addicted frolicsome attitude, remained adrift; but our stalwart travelers proved their mettle.

Our valiant officers, Rene Bouchard, Hector Dion, and Romeo Guimond, proved themselves to be expert helmsmen. The achievements of such brains as Robert Houde, Robert Bousquet, Armand Gagnon, Gerard Lamontagne, and Gerald Cote, kept our scholastic ratings on the high seas. Others, by their generous cooperation in the school activities maintained the good name of our crew on a high level. May we ask Hector Dion, Armand Rhoutier, George Bonnafe, Rene Bouchard, John O'Neil to take a bow; because of their self-sacrificing devotion, they steered our Blue and White skiff in the path of glory.

Now that we are harbored safely in successful achievements, we rightfully thank our devoted teachers whose advice was the beacon of light in our voyage. May hope that never forsakes the young and hardy, lend her lustre to our future prospects!

Freshmen

Section A

Septembre 1946! . . . Un nouveau groupe est tout fier de ce nom pimpant: Fresmen A. Nos latinistes se lancent résolument dans cette traversée mystérieuse qu'est le cours supérieur. La confiance, l'entrain, et le succès du début connaissent un fléchissement chez plusieurs jusqu'au moment où, tous réalisent que la science ne livre ses secrets qu'après l'effort dont on a un peu peur parfois. Qu'importe? Le succès a récompensé ces jeunes . . . . . .

Ils firent preuve de bon jugement en nommant Georges Dubé, Leonard Connell, et Robert Andrew officiers de la classe. La Sainte Vierge a dû sourire plus d'une fois en regardant cette classe car tous s'inscrivirent dans sa congrégation. On rapporte que Normand Bouthillier, Lionel Desrosiers, Raymond Guérette, Donald Ouellette, et Richard Renaud sont des membres d'avenir pour l'orchestre. Certes, le choeur de chant a recruté nombre de ses meilleurs voix en Freshman A, De plus, Robert Vanasse et Normand Bouthillier ont conquis la palme de l'éloquence.

Il convient de mentionner spécialement ceux qui contribuèrent à donner du relief à la classe '49. Alfred Brodeur s'est distingué en français; Arthur Anctil s'est affirmé le meilleur en algèbre; Jean Bérard a toujours obtenu des notes brillantes en religion; l'anglais connut un élève émérite en Robert Vanasse; et Georges Dubé fut l'as en latin et en histoire.

Section B

September 7th of the year 1945 will never vanish into oblivion, for it brought to Prevost High its actual Freshman class. We were all there, wondering what adventures were in store for us, now that we had reached this long sought goal: the High School. Within a short time, we became well accustomed to the school routine and at once set to work intently to lay down a solid foundation in our chosen field of learning. At the end of the first term, we were aglow with expectation but some of us were evidently amazed to see the dazzling notes they had dreamed of, dwindle to the neighborhood of the passing mark. We realized that a smattering of knowledge was not becoming and we at once redoubled our efforts to cope with the difficulties of the subjects and master them. Needless to say, our efforts proved successful. Our achievements, however, to a considerable extent, are the result of the tireless work of our teachers who devotedly led us along the path of knowledge and imparted to us the essentials of English, History, and Religion, besides mathematics and science. We also extend our heartfelt appreciation to Brother Hermann whose perseverance and patience enabled us to pass French.

One can picture the Freshman B. Class as a group of hard working, ambitious, wide-awake boys who, whether it be in their studies or in athletics, are at all times doing their very best to maintain the friendly comradeship and class spirit they have been taught in their first year at Prevost. Let us hope that we shall all be back again next September to continue in the path traced for us by our tireless and devoted teachers which, if followed through, is sure to lead us to the highest scholastic honors and character development.

Sodality of the Blessed Virgin

Celebrating its fifth anniversary at Prevost High School, the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin has attained the largest enrollment in its history. From a somewhat modest beginning, it has grown and expanded into a strongly united group of members pledged to devote a few minutes of their time each day in special tribute to the Virgin Mary.

At one of the most critical periods in a young man's life, when he is about to choose his vocation, the Sodality provides him with a magnificant source of spiritual aid and guidance; and, as he prepares to leave the sheltering walls of school for the open stage of the world, it helps him to go forth better equipped both as a man and as a Catholic.

One month before classes reopened, we at long last witnessed the end of the greatest calamity ever to descend upon modern civilization. To a varying degree, but with hardly an exception, families and individuals throughout the world felt the terrible weight of the conflict, and we have every reason to thank God that to us was granted the final victory.

The pattern of battle and victory, war and peace, occurs too in the soul of man, as he daily comes face to face with the would-be conqueror of his eternal destiny. To vanquish his devilish foe, the Catholic youth must enter the world arena a well-armed and well-armored soldier of God.

Our Sodality might be likened to a religious training school whence we must emerge clothed in the strength of virtue and grace. May we be ever thankful for the existence at Prevost of this wonderful proving ground for our future spiritual struggles in life.

Among its noteworthy activities during the past year, the Sodality carried out a definite program for the uprooting of an all too common evil among high school students: abusive language and profanity. The campaign for the benefit of non-members, as well as that of Sodalists, produced remarkable results. Equally successful was the interesting exhibit sponsored by the Freshmen and the Sophomores during "Catholic Book Week" and which won the admiration of the entire student body. A report upon the atomic situation by Edmond Valiquette, a Senior Sodalist, honored by a prize from the Queen's Work, was followed by a Book Review Contest, the purpose of which was to propagate the noble qualities of Catholic Literature. Among the ventures undertaken for the first time were meetings in which the entire Sodality took part and where members voiced their opinions on various topics. Such activities are of incalculable value in the proper development of young Catholic manhood. The Sodalists also staged an Amateur Show of "Truth and Consequences" with amazing success. In true Sodalist fashion, they ended the entertainment by saying night prayers.

All sorts of worthy causes were promoted in the Sodality. We have tried to carry out praiseworthy programs in such circumstances as Catholic Book Week, Catholic Press Month, Catholic Home Week emphasized by a Sodality amateur show, the "Perfect Week-End" of three communions in a row, the Rosary Club, etc.

To Reverend Father Dupuis, our devoted Chaplain, and Brother Francis, our untiring Moderator, we extend our deepest tokens of gratitude for their splendid contributions to the success of the Sodality at Prevost High School.

We, who leave the Sodality this year, realize, beyond all estimation, to what extent our responsibilities were lightened by the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary, our patroness. May She protect us always!

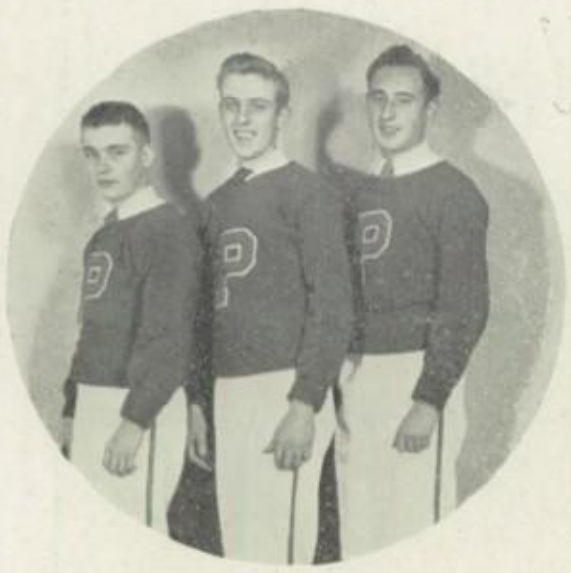
Basketball

With the coming of the winter season, the dribbling of a basketball can be felt in the system of every sport enthusiast. When the call for candidates was heard in late October, throngs of excited Prevost students flocked to the C. Y. O. hall to "try their stuff". Under the keen, experienced, and unprejudiced eye of Brother George, our capable coach, careful elimination soon began and the 15 best players were kept on the squad. Long practice sessions were held after school hours, and the whistle for the opening game found a group of youngsters ready to join the battle.

At center stood Daniel Latendresse who has developed into one of the best centers in the "Narry" League. As forwards, we have seen "Bobo" Boissonneau dropping them in from all angles, and his teammate, speedy little "Zeke" Valiquette, whose candid eye helped win several games. The guard positions were filled by Benny Ford who, although usually unheralded, was a major factor in the outcome of the games, and by Captain Ray Giasson whose unrelenting spirit led his teammates to many victories.

Our Jayvees, composed mostly of lower classmen, have developed into a sharp shooting and cooperating aggregation. They make us feel assured for the future basketball seasons of Prevost High School. These J. V. players are G. Bonnafe, E. Pelletier, A. Routhier, H. Dion R. Morrissette, R. Fortin, R. Chouinard, P. Lavoie, and A. Tremblay.



The success of a team depends not only on the players but also on the moral support of the student body. The cheers encourage and inspire the players fighting it out on the court. For this purpose, Brother Eugene organized our cheering squad under the leadership of R. Bouchard, J. O'Neil and D. Lapierre.

Besides adding color and gaiety to the games, they greatly helped in turning apparent defeat into victory. We take pride in congratulating the cheer leaders and the students for their school spirit.

We wish to thank and congratulate our coach, Brother George, for turning out so much with so little. Without a gymnasium or a convenient place to practice, he turned out a team that fought neck to neck with all the Narry teams, emerged with many brilliant victories and piled up an impressive amount of scoring.

The results of the schedule are as follows:

Grammar League Basketball Team

1st row: Robert Levesque, Normand Valiquette.

2nd row: M. Clairmont, N. Vezina, G. Hebert, G. Gendreau, L. Levasseur.

3rd row: D. Ferland, Brother Albert, Coach, A. Fortin, E. Coleman.

Our Grammar League basketball team came out as champions of the C. Y. O. League. In the first half of the schedule, they were beaten by St.-Anne who emerged at the head of the list. But, in the second series, our boys came out on top, and engaged in the play-offs with St.-Anne for the championship. They won the two first tilts of the three-game series. The first game was a 35-31 affair; but the second game was a triumph for our boys who walked off the court with a 46-28 victory.

We profit by this occasion to congratulate the members of the team, and to thank Brother Albert, their coach, for his generous devotedness and clever handling of their basketball problems.

Baseball

From left to right:
1st row: P. Lavoie, E. Pelletier, G. LeBreux, F. Bonnoyer, A. Tremblay.
2nd row: M. Hamel, R. Fortin, A. Boissonneau, R. Desrochers, A. Pelletier, A. Routhier, H. Dion, E. Valiquette, P. Peloquin.
3rd row: Coach Oliver, R. Giasson, W. Wall, D. Latendresse, S. Ford, A. Picard, R. Guimond, and Rev. Brother Francis, Athletic Director.

While placing five players on the Narry League All-Star team, Prevost finally won the league title last season by taking ten consecutive verdicts. Our Champions were rewarded for their marvelous achievement of bringing to Prevost its first Narragansett League championship, by a testimonial banquet given them by the school at the Howard Johnson last June.

In eight games played, (2 were forfeited) Prevost rolled up an average of 10 runs a game while limiting their opponents to one. Somerset, our closest competitor, was shut out twice by the scores of 4-0 and 6-0.

With six regulars from last season's titleholders returning, Prevost looms again as a contender for the pennant. Players returning from last year's championship nine are Ray Giasson, B. Ford, R. Desrochers, A. Boissonneau, E. Valiquette, and A. Pelletier, a veteran pitcher. These six stars will form the nucleus and backbone of this year's team, and they will also serve to steady the new players.

To fill the gap left by the departure of three regulars, coach Nick Oliver will have to choose from "subs" who last year revealed real possibilities, such as D. Latendresse, R. Fortin, P. Peloquin. Bright prospects among the newcomers are P. Lavoie, E. Pelletier, A. Tremblay, H. Dion, R. Guimond, A. Picard, and M. Hamel.

Returning to pilot our diamond representatives to another successful season is our outstanding coach Nick Oliver. To him goes much of the credit for the team's success in '45; and with Nick at the reins, Prevost will battle for its second consecutive Narry League championship.

The schedule is as follows:

APRIL 14th	Alumni at Prevost
APRIL 23rd	Coyle at Prevost
APRIL 30th	Westport at Prevost
MAY 3rd	Prevost at Case
MAY 7th	Prevost at Dighton

COMMITTEE ON
AFFILIATION AND EXTENSION

October 27, 1945

Dear Father Dupuis:

I am very happy to be able to inform you that at a recent meeting of the Academic Senate it was voted to approve the affiliation of Prevost High School with the Catholic University of America for a period of five years. This was done on the recommendation of the Committee on Affiliation.

The recommendations as contained in the Summary, a copy of which is enclosed, were adopted by the Committee and the following addition recommendation was made:

> That the school be inspected as soon as an inspector is in the vicinity of Fall River and that a reconsideration be given to the length of the period of affiliation at that time.

Do not hesitate to get in touch with us at any time that we can be of service to you. Within a short time you will receive a copy of a certificate of this affiliation and also some material that we hope will be of some value to you.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Roy J. Deferrari

Chairman, Committee on
Affiliation and Extension.

LE THEATRE A PREVOST

Les 26 et 28 mars, le club dramatique de Prévost a donné une magnifique soirée dont le souvenir ne s'effacera pas de sitôt.

Nos jeunes acteurs nous ont prouvé une fois de plus qu'ils ont vraiment des talents dramatiques de première valeur. La séance intitulée "Fanfare et Député" a été bien choisie. L'auditoire en a été charmé. La pièce entière était sous la direction capable et bienveillante du Révérend Frère Marcel.

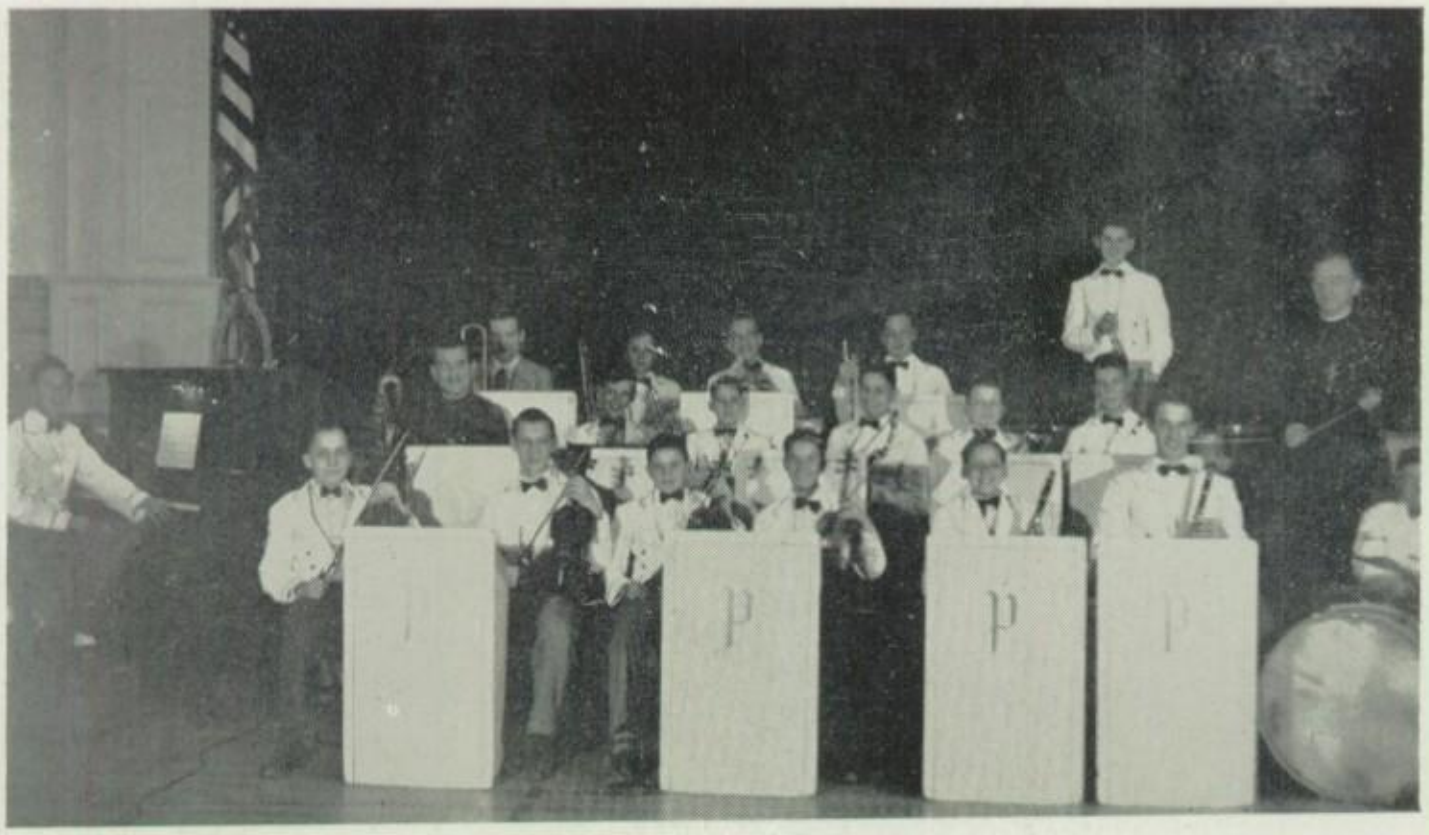
La comédie entière se déroula autour du communiste Edouard Bouchard qui joua le rôle de "Eschback", le martyr de toute la comédie, et de Fernand Thibault qui interpréta le maire torturant sans cesse le communiste.

Il ne serait pas juste d'oublier les autres acteurs qui ont tous rempli leur rôle avec art et talent. On peut mentionner Roger Phénix, Alexandre Doré, Lionel Cadrin, Paul Péloquin, Pierre Gagnon, Roger Lussier, Robert Chouinard, Paul Charron. Sans la coopération de tous, un succès si éclatant n'aurait pas été possible.

L'orchestre de Prévost a contribué à charmer l'auditoire en jouant quelques morceaux de musique bien appropriés. La chorale de Prévost a aussi fait sa grande part en chantant plusieurs morceaux avec un succès indiscutable.

ROBERT DESROSIERS.

Orchestra



The bright young cheerful faces attractively dressed in blue and white are the members of the orchestra. At the outset of the scholastic year, things looked dark for the music makers of Prevost. The '45 graduation extracted the three most experienced musicians who were leaders of the violin, clarinet, and trumpet sections. A harder blow was sustained when our brilliant director, Brother Patrick, had to leave to manage the affairs of the school as principal.

Fortunately, we have been able to secure the services of Brother Marcel, under whose guidance we have accomplished wonders in keeping the reputation of our orchestra intact. To him we extend our profound thanks for his splendid work throughout the year.

Nine of our musicians are members of the grammar school, eight are freshmen, five are sophomores, two juniors and one senior. Though lacking experience, our group settled down to practice regularly, and, with constant perseverance, our toil was rewarded by the applause of our audience. We first proved our worth at the school meeting. Our next appearance was at the J.M.A. play. In between scenes we delighted the audience with such selections as "Marche Militaire", "Mignonnette" and "Grandfather's Clock", among others.

Our orchestra showed real talent when it played to entertain the crowds between the acts of the Prevost High School play on March 26th and 28th. We here extend thanks to Robert Roy, our former companion, who has come devotedly to the rehearsals and helped us at our public performances as often as his duties have enabled him to do so.

La chorale

Encore cette année les gens de la paroisse Notre-Dame et des environs ont senti leurs coeurs battre d'un légitime orgueil car ils ont été enchantés par le chant mélodieux de la Messe de Minuit rendu par la chorale de l'Ecole Supérieure Prévost. Dû à l'habile direction du Frère Eugène et au travail infatigable du Professeur Dominateur Plante, les membres de notre "Glee Club" ont remporté un brillant succès à la messe, à la séance annuelle, et aux programmes de la Semaine Saints.

Cette organisation célèbre cette année le huitième anniversaire de sa fondation et ses membres attendent patiemment le jour où ils recevront leur emblème qui dénotera leur participation à une si grande entreprise.

Plusieurs de nos meilleurs chantres ont quitté l'école au mois de juin dernier mais ils ont été immédiatement remplacés par de jeunes enthusiastes dès les premières semaines de la nouvelle année scolaire. Parmi les basses nous trouvons plusieurs vétérans tel que Roger Lussier, Fernand Thibeault, René Bouchard, et Wilfrid Bérard. Les ténors aussi forment un groupe d'étoiles brillantes parmi lesquelles nous comptons Edouard Bouchard, Clément Dufour, Alban Caron, Robert Chouinard, Robert Vanasse et William Lytell.

Mais le succès remporté n'aurait jamais été réalisé sans l'assistance et la coopération du Choeur de Chant composé des jeunes étudiants de l'école. Sous l'habile direction et le grand dévouement du Frère Siméon les parties de soprano et d'alto ont gracieusement rendu leurs voix joyeuses aux chants de la messe de chaque dimanche, à la messe de minuit, et à la séance annuelle.

LA BIBLIOTHEQUE

La bibliothèque scolaire existe à Prévost, nous ne pouvons plus en douter. Elle est établie sur des bases solides et modernes, selon des plans adaptés aux différents besoins des étudiants qui la fréquentent. Naturellement, un local plus vaste permettra plus tard d'y accumuler quantités d'ouvrages très recherchés qui ne peuvent actuellement y trouver place. Toutefois, les élèves du H.S. et du G.S. savent tirer profit de cette richesse enchâssée dans les murs de notre école.

Un bibliothécaire professionnel, Charles Mortet, souhaite que les bibliothèques soient attrayantes, et que l'on y intéresse le plus grand nombre possible de lecteurs par des catalogues d'une consultation facile, par des aménagements matériels accélérant le service, et par des acquisitions de livres modernes et de périodiques répondant aux besoins du temps présent.

Tout comme une ruche bien garnie, notre bibliothèque renferme 2000 volumes choisis et reçoit régulièrement une trentaine de périodiques variés. Le catalogue mis en usage est basé sur la méthode décimale inventée par Melvil Dewey; ce système est adopté par plus de 65% des bibliothèques américaines.

L'organisation de ce paradis des bibliophiles est due au dévouement du Rév. Fr. Florentien qui, pendant plus de deux ans, a mis tout son talent à l'améliorer et à la rendre attrayante. Les élèves de Prévost lui doivent une reconnaissance profonde.

Notre vive gratitude s'ardresse aussie à tous les bienfaiteurs qui'ont fait profiter notre bibliothèque de leurs trésors. Leurs noms restent gravés dans les archives de ce départment et leur souvenir demeure dans nos murs.

"The Prevost" -- Monthly School Paper

Among the many extra-curricular activities that Prevost High has undertaken, its invasion of the journalistic field has been marked with particular success. In relatively short order, the publication has developed from a printed report on alumni news to a monthly paper covering all events of general interest.

This year, the paper achieved the goal it had been striving for since the very first issue, i.e., its management by the students themselves, who selected and wrote the articles they believed should be most appealing.

Pursuing a distinct policy of self-improvement, the paper appeared month after month with new features that sought to please its subscribers. One of the most noteworthy innovations was the extensive use of photographic cuts which literally brought to life the subjects treated. For the first four issues, we had at our service a student photographer, Marcel Robillard, while the four last editions featured the excellent pictorial contributions of Brother Augustus.

Of the many topics which accentuated our editorial policy were articles reminding the student body of its scholastic duties, while columns such as "Tattle Tale Hale" and "Idle Chatter" provided the essential humoristic element.

With pardonable pride we acknowledge the success of our undertaking. However, our achievement would have been far less spectacular had we not been encouraged by the benevolent support of the entire faculty, and especially three of its members. The limitless devotion of Brother Florentian, now a professor in Sanford, Maine, assured the gradual development of the paper during its first years. With unbounded enthusiasm, his successor, Brother Eugene, has quickly assumed the duties of his position, and it is our earnest opinion that he will prove to be an immense asset in all future editions.

Spending countless hours that very often ran well into the next morning, Brother Simeon has devoted his untiring efforts to the actual printing of the paper. We are grateful beyond words to our "printer" whose work has too often gone unnoticed and unheralded.

The Staff of "Prevost" 1945-46 feels that it has done its utmost to produce an interesting school paper. The Senior members who depart this year profess great satisfaction in the work they have accomplished, and, with a real sense of confidence, extend to next year's Seniors and particularly the new staff, its best wishes for success and continued advancement.

3rd row: F. Thibault, C. Clynes, A. Pelletier, E. Wall, H. Lapointe, S. Ford.

Last year we, the students of Prevost, witnessed the launching of a new school organization whose sole aim was to promote the art of public speaking. After a short existence of one year the Oratorical Club has proven beyond the shadow of a doubt its usefulness in preparing the young man's mind for actual life. At its birth this new school activity was immediately warmly received and looked upon with great enthusiasm.

This year more than twenty students of the two upper classes have shown a keen sense of rivalry in volunteering their services to promote so valuable an undertaking. These young men are to be heartily congratulated, for many of their leisure hours are whiled away in the choice of a favorable topic, the preparation of the actual speech and the grinding practice of its delivery.

As was decided early last year, the elimination contest was first held and the twelve leading orators were chosen to compete at the meetings that are to follow. The success of their efforts are to be crowned by the award of three gold medals graciously donated by Rev. Father Jalbert, pastor of Notre-Dame, Rev. Father Dupuis, director of Prevost, and Rev. Brother Mereal, Provincial Superior of the Brothers of Christian Instruction.

According to the verdist rendered by the faculty and invited guests who have acted as judges to these contests, Herman Lapointe, Samuel Ford, Daniel Latendresse, Andre Plante, John O'Neil and Alfred Pelletier provided the most interesting entertainment.

The junior faction of our Oratorical Club is composed of Sophomores and Freshmen. They abide by the same rules and are judged as severely, according to pronunciation, fluency of the delivery, and interpretation of their speech, as are the members of the first section. As a reward for their hard work and earnest toil the three leading orators will receive silver medals, one of which will be donated by Rev. Brother Patrick, Principal of Prevost.

Although many of last year's leaders of this section have gone forward into the ranks of the first group, they have been replaced by able and enthusiastic newcomers. This year's Freshman classes have come forward with a galaxy of stars among whom we number Robert Vanasse, Normand Bouthiller and Robert Lytell. The Sophomores are also well represented in the able persons of such veteran orators as Robert Houde, Reginald Desnoyers and Rene Bouchard.

Prevost can well be proud of its up-and-coming young orators who in but a few short years will compose the upper classes and the head of its student body.
